Digital editions of magazines open a new world for advertisers and readers. Leverage your brand with a complete suite of marketing channels — print, web, digital and multimedia. No proprietary reader or additional application is required. An elegant interface via a web browser makes it easy to receive and read issues online.

How is the magazine delivered?

- Subscribers request their issues to be delivered in print, digitally or both.
- Subscribers receive notification via an html email, with a link to an easy-to-use website for immediate access to their complete issue.
- The issue is interactive with hotlinks to all URLs in both editorial and advertising.
- Subscribers are able to download, read online and 'pass along' to a friend.
- Each edition has search, print and share capability, as well as archived back issues.

What marketing opportunities does digital delivery provide?

1. One of the most powerful opportunities is sponsorship of the issue. Your company has prime space on the reader with a leaderboard multimedia advertisement, as well as your logo and a listing/link appearing in the notification html email sent to all subscribers.
2. Enhance the message of your print ad with a multimedia overlay, or full-page replacement.
3. Extend the reach of your insert by sending it out to a wider circulation.
4. Strengthen your message by adding a deep link to your print advertisement and directing traffic to a target page.
5. Your print ad will have a hotlink to your company website at no extra charge.

Suppliers of digital advertising files are responsible for checking all files before sending to Westwick-Farrow. Westwick-Farrow does not take responsibility for the quality or integrity of any supplied advertising files.
